VICTORIA, V. I., THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3, 1871.

Requisition. LILLOORT, July 16, 1871. T. BASIL HUMPHREYS, Esq.

Dear Sir: -The undersigned having full confidence in your fitness and integrity, request that you will consent to be nominated as our representative in the Legislative As-We have the honor to be, Dear Sir,

Robr. P. Ritchie, R. Hosn, W. CHADWICK, GEORGE DUNNE, M. BRADY, H. O. Bows. W. H. KAY. A. W. SMITH. THOS. G. MARSHALL and 56 others REPLY.

Gentlemen: Nothing can be more gratifying than the benor of having succeeded in gaining the approbation and good will of the people of one the most important constituencies in the country, I have great pleasure in accepting the nomination alluded to in your requisition. The next Legislative Assembly will probably be the most important that has ever met in this colony, and it behoves all good men to be vigilant, and to exert themselves to insure the successful working of

It may be found well in practice to remember that the misrepresentations of those designing men, who so loudly asserted that you were not qualified to exercise political functions with advantage to yourselves or to the country, have been signally refuted, and that twelve years of misgovernment proves most conclusively, that they were not competent to hold, or exercise, the office of governors with advantage or safety to the community. Experience shows that it were vain to expect political improvement from men in whose official career is not to be found material progress, when not identified with their persona profit or advancement. I confess that when speculating on the causes which led to the disastrous retrogression of the past, I am puzzled to account for the long con invance of a political system, to which is traceable so much unmixed evil-a system containing within itself such active elements of ruin, which when considered in the abstract, might have been expected to put an end to its existence much sooner. Nor indeed is this all. It will be the duty of future legislators, in their post mortem examination of the late government to fearlessly probe the complicated disorders which paved a way for its final

It is not probable that any modern English community has suffered political ills so pay-ently as the people of British Columbia. The amount of maladministration, and the extraordinary nature of official aggrandizement is perfectly asten ding. A noree of rabe offer tion of despotic follies can haruly be imagined. We have seen public servants voting their own salaries, fixing their own pensions, defying public opinion, and pursuing with studied male ofence, the popular representat ves. We have seen mere adventureremployed as envoys entrusted with important s ate secrets-adver turers who are universal y execrated, whom the people have never trusted and have long suspected-creatures who are to British Columbians what the hateful Claudians were to the Incient Romans Nay, to crown this humiliating drama, a perverse and apparently senseless superior authority receive them with fulsome flattery, and applause and preferment is showered upon their heads in proportion to the mischief that they have done. The singularly baneful and distinctive nature of these events, is pregnant with astruction at d warning, and affords to every reflecting mind numerous and important les sons. The time appears appropriate for turning such lessons to account by improvements at once expedient, practical, and decisive; but they realize only half the danger which these events indicate, who see in them only official usurpation on the one hand, and determined opposition on the other. The lesson which these events teach us is that gross legislation and extreme agitation are inseperably connected Nay more, the danger indicated is to be apprehended by placing great powers in the hands of our governors without being secured by immediate not remote, certain not dubiouconst turional laws that those power shall not e abused. It will hardly be disputed by men of candonr and experience that there are certain requisites indispensably necessary to the security and efficiency of all just governments the most important of which I believe to be, freedom and security against wrong. Now I think you will readily admit that most civilized governments have succeeded pretty well in securing the people against wrong from each other; but to secure them by laws against wrong from the government itself, i problem of a far more difficult sort, which lew nations since the commencement of govrnments have attempted to solve. But it is problem upon the solution of which depends the freedom and security of every existing nation against oppression and peculation, and which from its importance commends itse f to the anxious and impartial consideration of al men who are desirous of rendering permanent service to mankind That it is not the business of those who govern to compel public opinion to follow them. but that it is their duty to follow publie opinion, is a canon of my political creed. Unfortunately the practice of those who have precept and example to think differently, but the day is not far distant when the predictions | 20 HORSES, of the advocates of justice and of reason shall be verified, -when the u just and barbarous laws which disfranchised so many intelligen and worthy citizens shall exist only as evidence of the bipotry, and sordid ignor-nee of those from whom they emanated, -when Confederation, the promotion of arts and science, the diffusion of useful truth, of General and Commission ducation, of civil and religious liberty.

I earnestly trust that with the advantages afforded by Confederation and Responsible Government our popular representatiqes may permanently reform the bad legislation of the past, and by a comprehensive and liberal policy, inaugurate a new era in our political history and insure the prosperity and appiness of all.

I have the bonor to be, Gentlemen, very sincerely yours, T. BASIL HUMPHREYS.

the best of my ability, to carry out your wishes and opinious.

I am not in favor of pensioning the officials, and will advocate the repeal of the Permanent Civil List Act. I will also vote for the repeal of the Qualification and Registration of Voters' Acts, as they are, in my opinion, unjust and unsuited to the people of this colony. I will resist any attempt of monopoly. I am in favor of an enlarged system of education.

In conclusion, I assure you that it will be my duty to advocate economy in every department of the Government, and to support that policy hest calculated to benefit the colony, that I will act in unison with the liberal and progressiue party, whose principle it is to extend the power of the people and to remove those injurious laws, which are so degrading to the community.

Thursday, August 3, 1871. Out of Debt, and what Its our Rcvenue?

When we went into the Dominion, all our Funded and Floating Debts were lifted from the shoulders of the Province and were made a charge on the Consolidated Revenue of the Federal Government. In other words, Canada became " liable for the debts and liabilities of British Columbia existing at the time of the Union." The question has, then, very naturally "cropped out"—What is our revenue, now that we are in the Dominion? We are not able to give more than an approximate answer to this question. By the terms of Union, we are en-titled to a debt of $1,666,200. But as our debt at the Union was in round numbers at least $1,050,000, we are allowed to draw from the Federal Government, interest at 5 per cent. per annum on the difference between the debt to which we are entitled and our actual debt on the 20th July. That difference is, say $616,-200, and the interest would be $30,810 per annum. Next, we get a fixed subsidy of $35,000 per annum, and a per capita subsidy of $48,000 per year. Lastly, we are to get $100,000 per annum for granting the railway belt of land to Canada. So our whole revenue derived from the Federal Government will approximate to about $213,810 per annum. The balance of our revenue will be derived from local sources. First stands the Road Tolls, which though threatened, are estimated at $42,000 in 1871. Next our land sales, though estimated at $20,-000 this year, yet, as $13,000 for arrears are included in that amount, the actual revenue will be only $7,000. For rent of Land and Pre-emption Fees, the estimate is $5000; for Mining Certificates, $11,-000; for Mining Receipts, $15,000; for Spirit Licenses, $27,000; for Trading Licenses, $15,000; for Fines and Fees of Court, $6,500; and for Registry and Assay Fees, $3,500. These are all the present sources of general revenue. There s an item of some $7,000 for Road Tax, but that is expended on Vancouver Island, in the districts where it is raised. So the total amount of general revenue derived from Provincial sources according to our present estimates will be $132,000. If to that be added our subsidies from the General Government, it will make our total revenue from all existing sources $345,810. It will be borne in mind that this total is only approximate; but it may be less, owing to local sources of revenue falling off. Making due allowance for possible reductions, still there will remain a very handsome revenue for the local Government to appropriate; and with careful management, may be productive of the most beneficial results. But it is very evident that if the attempt be made to reduce or abolish certain sources of revenue, the margin for reproductive purposes will be very small.

Municipal Institutions.

Among the questions that will naturally command the attention of the Legislative Assembly is the question of the necessity for a general Municipal law, under which municipalities may be er- DRY GOODS. ganized all over the country, wherever the people are sufficiently numerous to make them work successfully. There are quite a number of things in rural districts as well as in towns that might just as well be managed by municipal authorities as by the central govern-ment; and whilst a municipality it would relieve the general government from care and responsibility by having them locally managed, it would, in all probability, be the best school in which to train our people to manage their own affairs. It is not every locality that has the population to work a municipality successfully; but in Saanich, Cowichan, Nanaimo, and Comox, on this Island, and some places on the Mainland, there is not only the wish for but the capacity to make a municipal system. municipal system a success. We are not prepared to say that the powers granted in a general municipal law should be as extensive as in very populous countries like Canada and the States; but such things as roads, fences, road taxes, and a number of other things, could be attended to with general as well as local advantage. Our notion of a musicipal law is that it should not be compulsory on every locality to become a municipality; but that a general law should be passed, under which, on presenting a petition to the Governor, signed, after due deliberation, by at least two-thirds of the tax-payers, praying for a municipality, that it would be within the discretion of the Executive to grant

THE PRINCE OF WALES ON THE BATTLE OF Dorking .- On Wednesday, 28th June, the Prince of Wales, supported by Prince Arthur, the Duke of Cambridge, and other distin-guished persons, presided at the annual festival dinner of the Royal Caledonian Asylum, at the Freemasons' Tavern. The Prince of Wales, in proposing "The Army, Navy, and Reserve Forces," remarked that much had been said lately about "The Battle of Dorking." He sincerely trusted that the prophecy to which that publication gave expression would never be realized. Still there was an object in writing that little book, that object being to give a broad hint that we must not be found napping, and he (the Prince) be-lieved that if they would but take that hint and give to our defensive forces the attention they deserve, the prophecy would never be realized. The Duke of Cambridge, in responding, said that in spite of the experience f recent events abroad, he must express his to-day. belief that our army was equal to the performance of any duties it could be called upon to discharge, and that the "Battle of would have an issue far different from that which its pleasant author had predicted. English papers contain further proceedings under cross-examination. The following conversation had taken place between the Chief Justice and the leading counsel engaged on either side :-

Mr. Sergeant Ballantine said there was a of the witness. He believed it was not generally understood that his Lordship, by Act of THE NEW GOVERNOR .- The Sparrowhawk Parisment, had no power of sitting beyond with the Governor and family on board will his sitting before the 3rd of November, and under such circumstances the case would nece sarily be adjourned till that time. The question which his learned friend and himself duty free, to this Province, was received by had to consider was whether before that time Messrs. W. & J. Wilson, per Prince Alfred a portion of the luquiry could be finished, and whether the plaintiff's case could be concluded. He had had noped that the plain tiff's case could have been concluded, and his learned friend the Solicitor-General's speech for the detendant could have been made before it became necessary to adjourn, but on consultation they found that to be impossible It had been stated that 117 witnesses had to be called for the plaintiff. He was sorry to say that there was only a slight exaggeration; they had nearly 100 witnesses to call, and many of them must occupy a considerable time. In addition to that there was a great mass of evidence which would have to be laid before the court from Australia, taken before the commission issued there There were also suggestions made as to claimant which would compel him to call rebutting evidence. Under these circumstances his learned friends and himself had snapplication to make to his Lordship to allow an adjourn of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons keeps an office on Government street, between of which they were of opinion would not in any way impede the subsequent inquiry. This was an application of counsel—of himself and those with him, and of his learned triends on the other side. He sincerely hoped it would not add to the labours of the jury ; and that they would not feel that, in making the application, they were at all regardless of their comfort of convenience. He made this application with the concurrence of his learned friends on the other side. The Solicitor-General said that his learned friend representing the plaintiff, it was his duty to take the initiative. So far as he had stated he concurred with him. If, by sitting till the 10th of Angust the case be finished and his speech heard, that would have been the fairest, as his comments on what he hoped he should be able to prove would go forth If there with the evidence on the other side. were any reasonable prospect of that he should not have concurred in the application. But that was not possible, and under these circumstances he thought it would be far own side, begged leave respectfully to concur course to his Lordship. The Chief Justice said he had had been extremely desirous that the case should be tried continuously, and had fixed it to be taken early in the year. But circumstances had companies, being the properties of the companies, and he is unable to tell more than the christian be received by the telegraph companies, selected a time for it to begin, allowing that straightforward He is now with his mother period before the circuits commenced. It turned out that his expectations had not been realized, and that, instead of six weeks, probably twelve would be required, or possibly more. He had been extremely anxious to sit as long as he could sit by law, -namely, till the 12th of August; but he could not sit contrary to an Act of Parliament. But he was prepared to ask the Home Secretary to appoint some gentleman to sit as Comm er and go his circuit for him. He had little doubt this would have been done if he could have concluded the trial by sitting till the 12th of August; but it appeared the case could not be concluded then, and that it was a mere nuestion whether the adjournment should b n the second week of July or in the second week of August; and if both parties concurred that the adjournment should be in the second week in July he did not feel in a position to cempel the parties to proceed,
